MANUSCRIPTS OF DANIEL FOGG (1743--1815) IN THE STATE LIBRARY, HARTFORD, CONN.

[1] Declaration made by Daniel Fogg that he will conform to the liturgy of the Church of England as by law established, made when he received his license to perform ministerial office in the Province of Massachusetts, Aug. 19, 1770. [283.R22]

[2] Receipt by Daniel Fogg, given to his uncle, Jeremiah Fogg, for all demands and benefits from him as his guardian, and a discharge from all legal obligations---to him and to his heirs. Kensington, [N.H.], May 7, 1770. [283.R22]

[3] Certificate issued by Richard [Terrick], Bishop of London, ordaining Daniel Fogg of Cambridge, in New England, to be a deacon and a priest in the Episcopal Church at special ordinations, Aug. 19 and Aug. 24, 1770. [283.R22]

[4] License granted Daniel Fogg to perform the office of a minister in the Province of Massachusetts, Aug. 19, 1770. [283.R22]

[5] Eight MS. Sermons (1744-1775) by the Rev. Daniel Fogg of Pomfret, Conn. Presented to the Glebe House in Woodbury by Miss Mary P. Fogg, granddaughter of the Rev. Daniel Fogg, of Brooklyn, Conn. 1927. [252.qF687e]

[6] Diary (1786-1814) of the Rev. Daniel Fogg of Pomfret, Conn. Presented to the Glebe House in Woodbury by Miss Mary P. Fogg, 1927. [920.qF687]

This diary, from Feb., 1786, to July, 1814, was kept by Fogg, a graduate of Harvard College in 1764, who spent some time in North Carolina. He was appointed to the pastoral oversight of Pomfret, Conn., and entered upon his duties in May, 1772, when the number of the families composing his congregation did not exceed 25. He was of the group that met at the Glebe House in March, 1783, to discuss ways of obtaining Episcopal consecration for Connecticut. He died in 1815. The Glebe House in Woodbury, now the property of the Episcopal Diocese of Connecticut and formerly the home of the Rev. John Rutgers Marshall, was the place where a group of ten of the fourteen Episcopal clergy of Connecticut secretly met to devise ways of making the Episcopate in America secure, and where the Rev. Dr. Samuel Seabury was chosen for the office of bishop. It is now a shrine and repository for historical memorabilia of Bishop Seabury and his associates.

MEMENTOES OF THE EPISCOPAL ACADEMY OF CONNECTICUT

The large collection of the papers and records of the "Cheshire Academy" (1794-1917), now in the Archives of the Diocese of Connecticut, awaits exploration by competent scholars interested in the history of early American education. Until adequate studies can be undertaken, Dr. William A. Beardsley's short article¹ and Catalogue² must be our principal guides to the history and usefulness of the organization which Bishop Seabury, from the beginning of his Episcopate, attempted to found, and which, after its establishment, in an important sense became the precursor of Washington (now Trinity) College. Since Philip G. Nordall (R. D. 1, Ambler, Pa.) will soon, we hope, reveal the school's early efforts to raise money by lotteries authorized by the Connecticut Legislature, we have selected this facet of its history and broadsides of its academic performances as rare memorabilia to reprint herewith. We hope that they may encourage the historian to look further into our holdings.

SAMUEL FARMAR JARVIS PAPERS IN THE STATE LIBRARY, HARTFORD (PART TWO)

V. (JANUARY, 1838----SEPTEMBER, 1840)

JARVIS, SAMUEL FARMAR. Dated April 23-29, 1838, at Middletown. To James F. DePeyster, N.Y. Parochial duties will postpone his visit to N.Y. until next week. His house is nearly completed. A note for $3,000 must be met in May. Speaks of demands made by Mrs. Jarvis' creditors. He has told her that she must get money from her father. He and his Cousin William will have to go to Saybrook to interview his father-in-law, Mr. Hart. Does not understand why there should be a duty of $9 on a marble slab at the custom house.

ANONYMOUS. Dated May 13, 1838, at New Haven. To Mr. Jackson, Middletown. Attacks the character of SFJ and blames him for his domestic difficulties.

JARVIS, GEORGE O. Dated Oct. 6, 1838, at Colebrook. To SFJ, Middletown. Introduces Jonathan Coe, a student at Wesleyan, who wishes to learn about the discipline of the Church.

SAVAGE, SUSAN A. M. Dated Oct. 10, 1838, at Upper Middletown. To Mrs. Sarah M. Jarvis, Middletown. Regrets that she may not see Mrs. J. before she sails. Returns a pair of hose lent to her by Mrs. Jarvis and wishes every happiness.

TOTTEN, SILAS. Dated Oct. 10, 1838, at Hartford. To SFJ, Middletown. Writes as president of Washington College, asking that a scholarship be raised by the Middletown parish for the support of Mr. Wetmore for another year at college.

FULLER, DR. S. Dated Oct. 17, 1838, at Hartford. To SFJ, Middletown. Is reluctant to place Mrs. J. in a Hartford institution for the insane. Suggests consultation with other doctors. + draft of SFJ's reply, acquiescing in this advice and telling about the visit to Middletown of Mrs. Jarvis' brothers-in-law.

MACDONALD, DR. JAMES. Dated Oct. 19, 1838, at N.Y. To SFJ, Middletown. Proposes to visit Middletown in a few days.

CROSWELL, WILLIAM. Dated Oct. 30, 1838, at Boston. To SFJ, Middletown. States that in spite of his great friendship for SFJ, he does not wish to get into uncomfortable relations with his diocesan by requesting further papers in his possession, commenting on the fact that in such a case verbal testimony is not so damaging as the written word. Questions whether celibacy, if not coerced, isn't better after all. Mentions Bp. Brownell's visit with others at Dr. J's house. Mentions death of Mr. Morgan.

MACDONALD, DR. JAMES. Dated Oct. 31, 1838, at N.Y. To Dr. S. Fuller, Hartford, re. the symptoms of Mrs. Jarvis' insanity.

MACDONALD, DR. JAMES. Dated Oct. 31, 1838, at N.Y. To SFJ, Middletown. Mrs. Jarvis' conduct suggests insanity. Proposes that she be put under restraint if it continues.

BRINLEY, GEORGE. Dated Nov. 8, 1838, at Hartford, to SFJ, Middletown. Acknowledges receipt of letter informing him of SFJ's domestic troubles and of the threatened suit for divorce. Says that Mr. B[aldwin] of New Haven, counsel for Mrs. J., is a flippant man without much depth. Mentions Hartford lawyers who might be available to SFJ.

FULLER, DR. S. Dated Nov. 9, 1838, at Hartford. To SFJ, Middletown. Comments on the deranged state of Mrs. J's mind and suggests her restraint in an institution for the insane.

BRINLEY, GEORGE. Dated Nov. 11, 1838, at Hartford. To SFJ, Middletown. Advises SFJ not to bring Mrs. J. to Hartford for investigation of her mental condition as matters have gone too far for that course. Thinks a legal investigation of both sides would be a better plan. Expresses regret, for the sake of the children, that a reconciliation cannot be made.

JARVIS, GEORGE O. Dated Nov. 21, 1838, at Colebrook. Sends a shipment of butter to last through the winter. Says their parish is in need of a clergyman, asks for information about Mr. Coe whom the writer introduced to SFJ, and states that his nephew has had to leave college.

JARVIS, SAMUEL FARMAR. Dated Nov. 27, 1838, at Middletown. To James Murphy, N.Y. Re. final payment of $10 to cover cost of placing capitals on SFJ's property. + Receipt for payment signed by James Murphy.

SHERMAN, ROGER M. Dated Dec. 19, 1838, at Fairfield. To SFJ, Middletown. States that he has with great reluctance become counsel in the divorce case on the side of Mrs. Jarvis. Urges that steps be taken for a compromise or a reconciliation.

JARVIS, SAMUEL FARMAR. Dated Dec. 20, 1838, at Middletown. To James F. DePeyster, N.Y. Says he will have to mortgage his Pearl St. store to cover a loan at the Middletown Savings Bank. Asks for a certificate indicating that the property is unencumbered. Mentions barrels of fruit and sweet potatoes on a schooner at the mouth of the Connecticut River, which will be of little value to him when he receives them, and of his inability to get them delivered by land. Mentions a consignment of furniture which he received in a damaged condition and which was billed at a higher price than agreed. States that he has demands made upon him for the payment of this furniture, whereas he purchased with the understanding that he should pay at his convenience.

ELLSWORTH, GOV. Dated Dec. 24, 1838, at Hartford. To SFJ, Middletown. Suggests that Dr. J. write to Roger M. Sherman, telling him that he does not fear public investigation of his character and that the charges made against him will only recoil upon Mrs. J. This will leave the door open for Mr. Sherman to state specifically what he wants. The governor says he has seen Mr. Brinley, who concurs in what he has written.

JARVIS, SAMUEL FARMAR. Dated Dec. 26, 1838, at Middletown. To the Hon. Roger M. Sherman, Fairfield. Says that Mrs. J. has made reconciliation impossible by attacking SFJ's morals and that there is nothing for him to do but defend himself. Speaks of the injudicious conduct of Mr. McCurdy and of Commodore Hull, who have tried to influence public opinion by talking against SFJ. Mentions that Mrs. J. comes to Communion.

JARVIS, SAMUEL FARMAR. Dated Dec. 27, 1838, at Middletown. To James F. DePeyster, N.Y. Speaks of Mrs. Jarvis' petition for a divorce before the General Assembly on grounds of cruelty and lack of maintenance. Asks DeP. to obtain an account current of her expenses in Paris after the return of SFJ to the U.S. Says that she came to Communion on Christmas Day. Writes of his troubles with Cornell & Althausen over fixtures for his house and about his bill from Mr. King for furniture which was shipped on deck and damaged in consequence.

JARVIS, SAMUEL FARMAR. Dated [], 1839, at Middletown. To Bp. Thomas Church Brownell. Tells him of the hostility of Mrs. J's sisters. Asks the Bp. to talk the matter over with Mr. Hart when he makes his visitation to Saybrook. Regrets that he is forced to take measures to defend himself.

PETERS, J. S. Dated Jan. 12, 1839, at Hebron. To SFJ, Middletown. Quotes Mr. Strong's objection to acting as counsel in the divorce case of Mrs. J. and commiserating Dr. J. on his troubles.

JARVIS, ANTOINETTE. Dated Jan. 18, 1839, at St. Mary's Hall. To Mrs. Sarah M. Jarvis, Middletown. States that she has permission to write to her mother. Mentions receipt of games for Christmas, music lessons, and invitations to afternoon tea. + Draft of Mrs. Jarvis' reply: chiding her for waiting four months before securing permission to write to her mother.

BRINLEY, GEORGE. Dated Jan. 21, 1838, at Hartford. To SFJ, Middletown. Acknowledges Dr. J's notice about a deposit in the Middletown Bank. Advises him to remain quiescent in the face of his domestic difficulties and not take any action until he is attacked in a legal manner.

PETERS, J. S. Dated Jan. 25, 1839, at Hebron. To SFJ, Middletown. Re. counsel in the divorce case of Mrs. J. Commiserates Dr. J. on his troubles and suggests that as far as her treatment of Dr. J. is concerned, Mrs. J. must be insane.

JARVIS, SAMUEL F. Dated Jan. 29, 1838, at Middletown. "Character" of Mrs. Hilliard written for the Middletown papers.

MCCURDY, CHARLES. Dated Jan. 31, 1838, at Middletown. To SFJ, Middletown. Suggests that the divorce case of Mrs. Jarvis be referred to the judge of the Superior Court of this state.

BRINLEY, GEORGE. Dated Feb. 3, 1838, at Hartford. To SFJ, Middletown. Mentions Dr. J's domestic difficulties and coming trial. States that he thinks Mrs. J. has been ill advised to bring her allegations against Dr. J. to a trial, and expresses regret that Dr. J. has felt obliged to confine himself at home.

JARVIS, SAMUEL FARMAR. Dated Feb. 5, 1839, at Middletown. To James F. DePeyster, N.Y. Mentions the charges brought against SFJ by Mrs. J. in her petition for a divorce and of her coming to Communion a few days before. Believes her peculiar conduct must be caused by insanity or wickedness. Writes that he is harassed by pecuniary difficulties brought about by Mrs. J's extravagance. Mentions trouble he is having because of the necessity of securing Mrs. J's signature in order to obtain a mortgage. Suggests that he might sell his books and pictures---the former valued at $50,000, and the latter at $40,000---a low figure because the public taste is unformed and the value of such paintings is unknown. Feels that he ought to keep his books in order to continue work on the ecclesiastical history. Asks him to interest P. F. Stuyvesant in a loan.

BRINLEY, GEORGE. Dated Feb. 6, 1839, at Hartford. To SFJ, Middletown. Regrets that he cannot help SFJ in his financial troubles as he has just been obliged to assist his son in establishing himself in N.Y. Suggests that in order to protect himself Dr. J. should insert an advertisement in the papers that he will not be responsible for Mrs. J's debts. Says that the Governor will probably be unable to take part in the case.

BRINLEY, GEORGE. Dated Feb. 7, 1839, at Hartford. To SFJ, Middletown. Reviews charges brought by Mrs. J. in the divorce case. Her principal one was that he had been unable to provide for her---but only after she had brought financial embarrassment to him by her extravagance. Tells what the procedure will be before the legislature. Suggests the better plan, if possible, of a compromise.

CHAPIN, A. B. Dated Feb. 8, 1839, at New Haven. Asks for a brief sketch of the life of Bp. Abraham Jarvis for publication in the Chronicle and for some information which will enable him to make a list of clergy of the diocese from the beginning to the present day.

DEPEYSTER, JAMES F. Dated Feb. 9, 1839, at N.Y. To SFJ, Middletown. Re. Mrs. Jarvis' attack on SFJ. Says there is a difficulty in obtaining a loan in N.Y. Writes about the ownership of the Pearl St. store and of taxes, which will swallow up nearly the present quarter's receipts. Mentions the birth of a son.

PADDOCK, S. B. Dated Feb. 9, 1839, at Norwich. To SFJ, Middletown. States Mr. Strong's opinion on the course which SFJ should pursue as regards Mrs. Jarvis' current debts. S. is sorry he will be unable to act as counsel in the case. Paddock regrets his inability to attend the recent meeting of the Standing Committee in Waterbury. Suggests that the testimonials of the Bp.-elect of Western N.Y. be sent to him for his signature.

JARVIS, SAMUEL FARMAR. Dated Feb. 12, 1839, at Middletown. To James F. DePeyster, N.Y. Congratulates him on the birth of a son. Says that Mrs. J. has carried on a clandestine correspondence with the two youngest children, inciting them to be dissatisfied with their schools and trying to alienate their affection from their father. Begs DeP. to arrange financial matters so that he may be less worried. Possibility of extricating himself from his difficulties by selling his books, in which case the ecclesiastical history will suffer. Says his counsel, the Hon. Mr. Ferris, visited him while attending the Whig Convention.

BRINLEY, GEORGE. Dated Feb. 13, 1839, at Hartford. To SFJ, Middletown. Advises SFJ how to proceed to protect himself from paying future bills accumulated by Mrs. J. Suggests Mr. Betts of Norwalk and Mr. Toucy of Hartford as counsel for SFJ.
